The objective of this project is to raise awareness of nuclear power and related security and safety issues.

The project and its nuclear engineering experience includes working at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory for two summers and heading a recently funded project by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Savannah River Site.

The co-principal investigator, Gary Tartterson, is a professor of chemical engineering whose nuclear engineering experience includes working at Savannah River Site before joining A&T and currently consulting for the DOE Hanford Site on issues with nuclear waste processing. Tartterson is the author of three books and Wang is the author of two text books for McClure-Hill.

Both of them are recipients of teaching awards from the Department and the College of Engineering.

The objective of this project is to raise awareness of nuclear power and related security and safety issues.

New EPA Faculty/Staff and Administrative Appointments 2007-2008

CHANCELLOR’S OFFICE
Stanley F. Battle, chancellor
Janet Seiz, special assistant to the chancellor
Charles Worley, special assistant to the chancellor
Mark Riddick, special assistant to the chancellor

DIVERSITY OF ACADEMIC AFFAIRS
Doreen A. Callaway, interim dean, School of Education

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES
Stephanie Tatum, assistant professor, animal sciences

SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
Stephanie Tatum, coordinator, nutrition program outreach, Cooperative Extension

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
Stephanie Tatum, associate professor, math, computer science

CBT, 7 p.m., F

SEPT 9
Business, Journalism: The Great Opportunity, Crosby Hall, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m., W, L, R

SEPT 9
IGI Summit Action Network’s “Get Your Money Right”; Financial Literacy and Empowerment Tour, Coates Sports Center, 1:30 p.m., F, T

SEPT 12
OCSI Annual Career Awareness Fay, Coates Sports Center, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., F

SEPT 13
“Chancellor & Company,” WNAA 90.1 FM, 10 a.m.

SEPT 13
Deadline for State Health Plan (Traditional Indemnity Plan and Smart Choice) Fall open enrollment

SEPT 15
First Annual Sports Hall of Fame Golf Tournament, Grandview Resort (Greensboro), 7:30 a.m., $70

SEPTEMBER 7
Board of Trustees Meeting, Doby Building Boardroom, 2 p.m.

SEPTEMBER 22
Army ROTC 60th Anniversary Celebration, Koury Convention Center (Greensboro), 7 p.m., $5

SEPTEMBER 21
“Chancellor & Company,” WNAA 90.1 FM, 1:30 p.m.

Talented Tenth HBCU Tour Featuring Tank Smiley, Harrison Auditorium, 7 p.m., F, T

SEPTEMBER 24
Deadline to remove incomplete grades received spring/summer 2007

SEPTEMBER 28
Deadline to apply for Certificate in Entrepreneurship

SEPTEMBER 28
Deadline to apply for Certificate in Waste Management

The N.C. A&T Sales Office is located in Brown Hall, corner of Laurel and Bluford streets. For information, call (336) 334-7449.

THE AGGIE REPORT
A Biweekly Newsletter for Faculty and Staff of North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

N.C. A&T’S IMMEDIATE GOALS

80% Retention Rate
20% 4-year Graduation Rate
50% 6-year Graduation Rate

VOL 9 • NO 2 • September 7, 2007

A&T Receives Curricular Grant on Nuclear Power

North Carolina A&T State University recently received a $200,000 curricular grant from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to develop course modules and elective courses on nuclear energy and nuclear engineering.

The objective of this project is to raise awareness of nuclear power and related security and safety issues.

Shih-Liang “Sid” Wang, professor and director of the mechanical engineering program at A&T, is the principal investigator of the project. His nuclear engineering experience includes working at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory for two summers and heading a recently funded project by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Savannah River Site.

Selected courses include:

- Business, Journalism: The Great Opportunity, Crosby Hall, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m., W, L, R

- IGIVI Summit Action Network’s “Get Your Money Right”; Financial Literacy and Empowerment Tour, Coates Sports Center, 1:30 p.m., F, T

- OCSI Annual Career Awareness Fay, Coates Sports Center, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., F

- “Chancellor & Company,” WNAA 90.1 FM, 10 a.m.

- Deadline for State Health Plan (Traditional Indemnity Plan and Smart Choice) Fall open enrollment

- First Annual Sports Hall of Fame Golf Tournament, Grandview Resort (Greensboro), 7:30 a.m., $70

- Board of Trustees Meeting, Doby Building Boardroom, 2 p.m.

- Army ROTC 60th Anniversary Celebration, Koury Convention Center (Greensboro), 7 p.m., $5

- “Chancellor & Company,” WNAA 90.1 FM, 1:30 p.m.

- Talented Tenth HBCU Tour Featuring Tank Smiley, Harrison Auditorium, 7 p.m., F, T

- Deadline to remove incomplete grades received spring/summer 2007

- Deadline to apply for Certificate in Entrepreneurship

- Deadline to apply for Certificate in Waste Management

The N.C. A&T Sales Office is located in Brown Hall, corner of Laurel and Bluford streets. For information, call (336) 334-7449.

Welcome to the North Carolina A&T State University family and consumer sciences Extension information officer
Henry L. Nichols, William A. Clay, Dorothy C. Browne, s

The objective of this project is to raise awareness of nuclear power and related security and safety issues.

The co-principal investigator, Gary Tartterson, is a professor of chemical engineering whose nuclear engineering experience includes working at Savannah River Site before joining A&T and currently consulting for the DOE Hanford Site on issues with nuclear waste processing. Tartterson is the author of three books and Wang is the author of two text books for McClure-Hill.

Both of them are recipients of teaching awards from the Department and the College of Engineering.

The objective of this project is to raise awareness of nuclear power and related security and safety issues.
Shelby I. Benton has been appointed interim director of human resources. A few of Benton’s administrative experiences in higher education include serving as project assistant to the vice chancellor for student affairs and interim director for undergraduate admissions at Winston-Salem State University; executive assistant to the vice president for administration, California State University-Fresno; assistant director for compliance, Florida State University; and senior woman administrator, compliance coordinator and sports information director, University of Maryland Eastern Shore.

Ray J. Davis, associate dean in the School of Technology, was elected southeast region vice president for The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi at the Triennial Conference that was held in Orlando, Fla., Aug. 9-11. Davis will be responsible for working with regional chapter officers to strengthen established PKP chapters. There are 62 such chapters in the region.

C. Marline Hinton, a director in the Division of Information Technology and Telecommunications, has been awarded a certificate of appreciation from N.C. Gov. Mike Easley in recognition of his work with students and non-profit community organizations in a real-world learning environment. For over 10 years, Hinton has helped various nonprofit organizations and students learn to manage projects and in the process to give back to the community.

DeWayne Wisham, director of the Institute for Advanced Journalism Studies at N.C. A&T, was one of three minority journalists to question Democratic Party presidential candidates during a 90-minute program that broadcast live on PBS June 28. Wisham is a columnist for USA Today.

Calling all Appies, civilians and former and present Army ROTC cadets, the Army ROTC program at A&T invites you to attend its 60th anniversary celebration, Sept. 20-22, at Koury Convention Center. One of the special guests will be Col. Reginald Bryce, 47, one of the unit’s first commissioned officers. Since its inception in 1947, A&T’s Army ROTC unit has commissioned over 1,600 officers. For ticket information, call (336) 334-7588. At 5:12 p.m. per person, the ticket package includes the registration fee, luncheon and banquet.

The Aggie Club is sponsoring a fundraising banquet at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 21, in the Alumni-Foundation Event Center. A&T alumni and NFL Hall of Fame member Elvin Bethea will be the keynote speaker, and former A&T coaches Donald Corbett, William Hayes, Hornsby Howell and Calvin Irvin will be honored. For tickets, contact Jimmy Branch, (336) 852-8676.

N.C. A&T Homecoming Parade applications are now available for the Saturday, Oct. 27, event. The entry fee for non-A&T student organizations is $150. Parade entries include one float or vehicle, one walking unit, two horses, two cycles, or two go-carts. The fee for an additional entry is $75 and will be approved based on availability. Applications must be received no later than Friday, Oct. 5. All fees are non-refundable. Parade entrants will be required to pass through a police security checkpoint on the morning of the parade. For additional information, call Lee Morgan at (336) 334-7792 or Robert McNair, (336) 734-7571, or send an email to osd@ncat.edu.

Gate City Alumni Chapter’s annual Aggie “No Tap” Bowling Tournament will be held Friday, Oct. 26, at Gate City Lanes in Greensboro. Shift times are 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. The registration fee is $25 per person per event, and proceeds benefit the chapter’s scholarship fund. On-site registration will be available; however, mailed entries must be received by Friday, Oct. 19. For further information, contact Helen Butler-Duncan at (336) 854-5329 or hbduncan72@yahoo.com.

N.C. A&T State University
1601 East Market St.
Greensboro, NC 27411

Theatre Program Gears Up For 2007-08 Season and Special Homecoming Performance

Theatre Arts Program

Theatre Arts Program will kick off the 2007-08 season Oct. 11-21 with John Steptoe’s “Mudmin’s Beautiful Daughters,” a story about two beautiful daughters—one with a bad temper and one who is kind—and their attempts to marry the king.

This award winning children’s book is a modern fable of pride going before a fall and it keeps within the spirit of the African folklore. Show times are Oct. 11-14 and 18-20 at 7 p.m., Oct. 17 at 9:30 a.m., and Oct. 21 at 3 p.m.

After a day of cheering on the Aggies at the Homecoming game, spend the evening with the Richard B. Harrison Players when they present “The Heart of Broadway” at 8 o’clock Saturday, Oct. 27.

The national award winning company promises to heat up the stage with this hot, hilarious and hip Homecoming Cabaret performance.

The season also includes Langston Hughes’ “Black Nativity” (Nov. 29- Dec. 2), Charlayne Woodard’s “Pretty Fire” (Feb. 14-24), and Euripides’ “Medea” (Apr. 10-22).

For ticket information, call (336) 334-7852. All performances will be held at the Paul Robeson Theatre.

Stay tuned for the E. Gwynn Dance Company, under the direction of Eleanor Gwynn, as they prepare for an International Jamaican and Cuban Dance Festival in the spring. The weekend performances, April 1-5, will include a Nutan art exhibition, Jamaican and Cuban master dance class and lectures, children’s dance performance and an E. Gwynn Dancers concert. For more information, call (336) 256-2137.